Laugh Lines.....

There once was a man who had been married for more than 60 years. They'd shared everything, they'd talked about everything, and they kept no secrets from each other. Well, no secrets other than the shoe box the old woman kept in the top of her closet that her husband was never to open or ask her about.

For all these years, he had never thought much about that box, but one day the little old woman got very sick, and the doctor said she would not recover. In trying to sort out their affairs, the man took the shoebox out the closet and brought it to his wife's bedside. She agreed that he should know what was in the box.

When he opened it, the man found two crocheted doilies and a stack of money totalling $25,000. He asked her about the contents. “When we were wed, “ she said, “my grandmother told me the secret of a happy marriage was never to argue. She told me that if I ever got angry with you, to just stay calm and crochet a doily.” The man was so moved he had to fight back tears. Only two precious doilies were in the box. She had only been angry with him twice in all those years. “Honey,” he said “that explains the doilies, but what about all of this money. Where did it come from?” “Oh,” she said, “that’s the money I made from selling the doilies.”
