VOLUNTEERS FIND A WAY TO CONTRIBUTE

While there are dozens of highly visible teacher volunteers on each campus, this week we want to recognize some of those persons who do not teach a class, but volunteer in others ways to make People Program a strong community organization. At Lakeshore, you can often see Bill Barclay trimming shrubs, planting “Dusty Miller” and “Knockout Roses,” or pulling weeds. Steve Dassey is another volunteer who helps maintain the gardens and the building with his expert skills and recommendations. Steve is also first in line to help with special occasions like the Gala and Fall Festival Week-End. Other volunteers fill in when a teacher is absent. For example, Leonard Larkins is servicing on jury duty this month and Nola O'Connor has stepped in to make sure his large introductory drawing class continues with its curriculum. Carolyn Anderson and Rogerwene Washington did the same thing recently for the Monday Strength Training class. Sandra Rowan is creating a beautiful necklace we will raffle and Brenda Wise and Janet Hayashi crafted one-of-a-kind greeting cards for the festival, Diane Schleifstein donated a check she received for selling Mah Jongg cards, and Althea Washington baked yummy cookies this week to add to our “snack cart.” Volunteers like Sonia Sticher, Judy Morovich, and Joyce Dassey have come in to help price items for the boutique. The “take away” here is that all of us can contribute to making our community better. What do you want to add?

FALL FESTIVAL: 11/5-6

We invite all to join us Friday, November 5 at 6 PM at Holy Spirit Catholic Church for “An Art Affair” where People Program members will showcase their art. We will start this special evening off with a performance by the acclaimed “Shades of Praise,” which will be followed by the art show, silent auction, raffles, and 50-50, amidst a gathering of parishioners, fellow students from all campuses, family and friends. Hors d'oeuvres and wine will be served throughout the evening. Tickets are only $25 and transportation from the East Bank is free. This is a great opportunity to engage in traditional harvest activities—celebration of-- and gratitude for—our blessings. See you there!

PLANNING FOR SPRING SEMESTER. While we are only ½ way through the fall semester, we are already planning for Spring, 2011. Please let us know what changes you recommend for our curriculum and who might make a strong addition to our volunteer teaching corps.

TEACHER COMMITMENT REPLIES

Please complete and turn in your teacher commitment letters for the Spring, 2011 semester.
