LAUGH WITH US!!

BUBBA HAS SHINGLES

Bubba walked into a doctor's office and the receptionist asked him what he had.

Bubba said, "Shingles." She wrote down his name, address, medical insurance information and told him to have a seat.
Fifteen minutes later a nurse's assistant came out and asked Bubba what he had. Again, he replied, "Shingles." The assistant wrote asked for height, weight...his whole medical history, and told him to wait in the examining room.

Half an hour later a nurse came in and asked Bubba what he had. Again, Bubba replied, "Shingles." The nurse gave him a blood test, an electrocardiogram, took his temperature and blood pressure before asking him to disrobe and wait for the doctor.

An hour later, the doctor came in to examine Bubba and asked him what he had.

Bubba said once more:
"shingles." When the doctor asked where, Bubba replied, "Outside on the truck. Where do you want me to unload
'em?"

With apologies to our physician friends, many of us can identify both with the process, as well as the time line!
