Recycle Bins

You have probably noticed our recycle bins located on the main campus. You can toss in your paper cups (minus liquid), plastic bottles and containers, paper of any kind, and of course, empty aluminum cans or containers.

Our large compost bin was blown away by Issac, so for the time being, we have suspended the collection of food scraps.

Laugh Lines...

One day, an elderly woman was walking along the street, coming home from the supermarket. Her bag of groceries was especially heavy that day, and as she passed Nathan Hale's Used Cars, she got an idea that she could drive herself to the store and save time and aching muscles.

She walks into the dealership and, as it so happens, gets the owner himself. He asks her what kind of car she wants, and she replies, “Well, Sonny, I can't remember the name exactly, but it has something to do with hate or anger.” The owner replies, “Well, let's see... Oh yes, you want a Plymouth Fury. We have a couple on the lot. What color do you prefer?”

The lady has some trouble explaining the exact color, so she reaches into her shopping bag, takes out an ear of corn, strips down the shucks and says, “I want this color.” Nathan replies, “Ma'am, I'm sorry, we don't have any in this color. Could I show you a nice blue one?” “No, sonny, I want this color.” “But ma'am, they didn't make that color. Maybe a cherry red one would suit you.”

By this time, the old lady gets mad, and starts throwing things at the owner, thereby chasing him out of the office and into the lot. One of the salesmen, coming into the office from the back door, notices the disruption and asks the secretary what the old woman was so upset about.

The secretary replies, “Apparently, Hale hath no Fury like the woman's corn!”
