Laugh Lines.....

Mid-career, a bookkeeper decided to do something different. So she quit her job and mailed out twenty resumes with a cover letter describing her employment history and citing her strengths: accuracy, precision, and attention to detail.

Two weeks passed, and no one called to request an interview. The mystery was explained when, after three weeks, a letter arrived from one of the companies she had queried. It said, "Your resume was not enclosed as stated on your cover letter, but we want to thank you for the scrumptious brownie recipe."

"Age is an issue of mind over matter. If you don't mind, it doesn't matter."

Mark twain
